

The continued consolidation of the media is not in the best interest of the public. We have had a long period of consolidation in the radio broadcasting industry that has nearly destroyed popular music.

This reduction in diversity and creativity in popular music, is the direct result of the consolidation that has already occurred in the radio broadcasting industry. We need less consolidation not more!